

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media contact: Robin Weitz
(310) 248-6107
rweitz@bwr-la.com

DSI EXPANDS WITH PROMOTION OF RAKOCEVIC TO CTO, APPOINTMENT OF OBEDA AS OFFICE MANAGER

Los Angeles (September 21, 2007) – Seeking to provide an enhanced level of service to an increasingly complex client base, Dependable Solutions, Inc. (DSI) today announced the promotion of Zeljko Rakocevic to chief technology officer and the addition of Suzanne Obeda as office manager.

Effective immediately, Rakocevic will lead all programming efforts for DSI's flagship product, Dependable Rights Manager (DRM). He currently oversees a team of three programmers readying the launch of DRM v3.0, which updates and improves upon the v2.0 software.

Rakocevic has extensive experience in software development and design. For two years prior to joining DSI he worked at Awareness Technology in Marina Del Rey as the chief re-architect of its packaged employee monitoring applications, segueing there from the venture he founded, WestEnd Software, Inc., which produced Action 2.0 film management software. Also serving as CTO and software architect at FilmEcNet.com, a software development company for the entertainment industry, he was previously founder, CTO and project development leader of Megasoft Computers, where, as CTO and project development leader, he led, designed and created enterprise software applications including the postal information system of former Yugoslavia, processing and control of the telephone switchboards, financial transactions and banking. He was a leading team member in the development of Present Traffic Station, StyleClick.com and Alpha Base System. He has also led teams of engineers on the development of various software systems for business management, general accounting, inventory and equipment management, various multimedia software and many other applications. Rakocevic received his B.S.E.E. degree from the University of Belgrade's School of Electrical Engineering in Serbia and Montenegro.

Obeda joins DSI as our first office manager to help coordinate all the employee, vendor and customer activities. Suzie married into a software consulting company as her husband Ed is a full time programming consultant for Toyota Motor Corp. She ran IntraSupport computer consulting company using QuickBooks to help us track employee time, payroll, vendor payments and customer invoicing. Suzie has a B.A. in History from UCLA and a J.D. from Southwestern University School of Law.

"I'm thrilled to elevate Zeljko to the newly created post of CTO and to bring in Suzanne Obeda as our office manager," says Marty Malysz, president of DSI. "I know that both will be integral in DSI's mission to meet the growing needs of the licensing industry."

(more)

About Dependable Solutions, Inc.

Dependable Solutions, Inc. delivers the latest financial management systems and services to licensors, licensing agents and licensees with Dependable Rights Manager, a contract-based integrated licensing system developed by experienced specialists in licensing and royalty software. For more information about DSI, please visit www.dependablerights.com or call (866) 645-2875 (North America).

#