DSI LAUNCHES QUICKSTART SERVICES TO ADDRESS CHALLENGE OF IMPLEMENTING AUTOMATED LICENSING SYSTEMS

Los Angeles (April 13, 2007) – Supplementing the release of Dependable Rights Manager v2.0, Dependable Solutions, Inc. (DSI) announced the launch of DRM QuickStart services to address the frustration of implementing licensing systems – namely, setting up the new software.

“Once clients decide to automate their licensing operations, coordinating multiple departmental use and cross-department communications always presents a challenge, and oftentimes a risk,” says DSI President Marty Malysz. With QuickStart services, DSI can personally help clients manage an IT implementation project with Dependable Rights Manager. DRM QuickStart helps clients by offering scalable levels of system set-up, data entry and data analysis, alleviating hours of data entry time while assisting in the organization of data.

The primary benefits of DRM QuickStart include:

- Saving hours of client resources. QuickStart helps DSI clients alleviate the need to spend hours of senior management or consultant time to set up DRM systems. While most DSI clients only implement a new system every 5+ years, DSI is immersed in all the techniques needed for successful project implementations for a range of businesses.
- Client focus remains on core business. With QuickStart services, DSI can help alleviate the pressures of handling two jobs at the same time. We do the implementation work while the client’s team stays informed of progress through periodic project meetings.
- Analysis of data and guidance by industry experts. It can be tough to put systems into companies and often requires specific change management expertise. DSI’s team of IT and licensing professionals help make the switchover smoothly.
- Launch a functioning system in less time. For clients who need to have a system up and running in 60-90 days, DSI QuickStart services allows them to supplement their internal team with specific IT and licensing experts.

Dependable Solutions, Inc. delivers the latest financial management systems and services to licensors and licensees with Dependable Rights Manager, a contract-based integrated licensing system developed by experienced specialists in licensing and royalty software. DSI is headquartered in West Los Angeles with satellite offices in Houston and Shanghai.
